REPUBLICANS HOLD

MEETING AT BERKELEY.

Columbia Fire Company Will Quit Business of Fighting Flames.

BERKELEY, Nov. 15.—The Berkeley Republican Club met last night and discussed various matters of political importance. The entertainment committee, consisting of Dr. Kelley, C. Spear and J. Mills, were instructed to arrange for an entertainment to be given Tuesday evening, December 13th.

The committee was given full power to provide such entertainment as it saw fit. The meeting will probably be held in Old Fellows Hall, as Golden Sheet Hall, where the club now meets, is too small for a large meeting.

COLUMBIA COMPANY TO DISBAND.
The Columbia Company has a great deal of trouble with the Volunteer Fire Department. The Columbia Company has been trying for a long time to get some improvements made in its apparatus.

One greatly needed improvement is another set of hose, so that when one set is brought in from a fire it can be put upon the reel. But the reels and the damp weather kept it from doing so. As rolling it up on the reel in a wet condition would cause it to mold, it had to be left hanging up there, leaving the company entirely without apparatus with which to go to a fire should one occur.

SCHOOL PAPER.
The students of the Polytechnic Business College have decided to publish a paper. The following list of officers have been elected: Chief editor, Mortimer H. W. Harmon; assistant, Miss Hattie Wycker; V. Harmon; Miss Minnie Lowry and C. H. Hiney; artist, Fred O'Donnell.

The directors are: Albert R. Wright, James Chalmers, Roy Pollock, Horace E. Johnston and K. L. McCullough.

NOTES.
P. Corrigan of Grove street has returned from Alaska. He has mining interests on the Klondike to which he will return in the spring.

Mrs. C. C. Underwood is seriously ill at the family residence on Grove street. Contractor W. P. Grant has been paid $200 on account and $150 for additions made to the regular contract for the foundation for the Town Hall.

BIG CHURCH BAZAR.

People of Congregational Church Will Raise Money to Meet Expenses.

HAYWARDS, Nov. 15.—A party of Haywards young people spent a very pleasant evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. De Camp last Saturday night. During the evening a rival cake walk was executed. The contesting couples were: The Misses Florence De Camp and May Hamilton, and Miss Alma Hamilton and R. Reid. The cake was awarded to the former couple, whose dancing was exceedingly graceful and well executed.

After consulting with the attorneys for the defendants in the case against the Guidance boys, Judge Pimental has decided to give the case a hearing tomorrow.

The preparations for the bazar which will be held in the Congregational Church on Thursday evening, November 23d, are being actively pushed forward.

Mrs. George Obermuller has charge of the refreshments. A twenty-five cent chicken dinner will be served in the evening.

The funeral of Edna Anderson, the 7 months' old child of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Anderson, took place yesterday afternoon. Interment in San Lorenzo cemetery.

Charles McCreedy, who has been employed as bookkeeper at the landing, has secured a position in a hardware store in San Francisco, and left for that place on Monday.

FINE MASQUE BALL

HELD AT NEWARK.

People From Many Towns
Attended the Very Successful Affair.

NEWARK, Nov. 14.—Sunday was a bad day for hunters.

The Consoletion Club has moved its headquarters to new quarters.

The much and reports a few earlier and snipe.

Unless the Supervisors place a fine on the two or three years under protection, they will be exterminated. They commenced pairing about January, and there is still time to save what remains still exist of the former great flocks.

The masquerade ball given by the D. of H. in Newark on Saturday evening last was well attended, and successful from every point of view. The young people of the town generally were present, and guests from Centerville, Niles, Irvington, Alameda and other places were here, either as lookers-on or to dance.

The music was fine and was furnished by the Golden Gate orchestra. As might be expected the costumes were many and varied, and among the gentlemen the fancy for clova masks seemed to predominate. The grand march and dances began at 8:30, and from that time until the hour of midnight the fun grew fast and furious.

Mr. J. B. Terrell was doorkeeper, and every courtesy was extended by him and others in charge to make it agreeable for the guests, who came to look on or to participate in the pleasures of the occasion.

The TRIPUDY reporter, who was present, has to thank Mr. Terrell, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Reisinger and Miss Kate Rose, especially, for many courtesies that evening. The devil also came and paid his respects to the scribbler, grateful to her amusement. I saw him dancing afterwards with a "wide girl dressed in blue." Our esteemed townsmen, Mr. E. Rank, though not in masquerade, received the special honor of an escort nil to himself, being surrounded on his entrance by a ring of young men, who danced with a lively pop up and down the hall until he was breathless, when they took pity on him and let the poor man go. Of course there were many incidents without number, too many for recording here. There were many pretty costumes, some quite elaborate, others more simple, but as pretty a little pair as one could find was "Mildred Sam" and "Miss Columbia"—Miss Kathie and Grace Gibbons, the two little daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gibbons. The two tiny beauties were much admired, and it was a pleasure to see them. The little school girls with their skipping ropes merit praise, though they were not in the line of the masquerade.

An extremely lively body was in evidence, and apparently required no "soothing" syrup, being one of the most unadorned bodies that never cried. Well they unmasked, and everybody was astonished that they they hadn't recognized their friends before, and then an adjournment was held to the supper room below, where cake and ice cream were served. Delicious cake and cream it was, and Mrs. Agnes Cahill, Ladies' Aid, Mrs. Reisinger and others assisted in serving refreshments.

The characters represented were as follows: Mrs. John Dugan, Sr. Queen Isabella; Mrs. Fred Dugan, Queen of Carnival; Miss Mabel Dugan, Flower Girl; Ed. Delaney, Devil; Fred Sam, Red Riding Hood; Mrs. F. Red Riding Hood; Mrs. Cuffey, Night; Miss Louisa Costa, Sailor Girl; Miss Amy Salter, Girl; Miss Abbie Wales, Egyptian Princess; Miss McMillin, Caecilia; Miss K. Doyle, Gipsy Girl; Miss Hattie Love, Girl; Mrs. George Cook, Shipwrecked Sailor; Lafayette Terrell and Tom Delaney, Twin Clowns; Chas. Cocklehat, Chas. Paine, George Costa, J. Deering, Mad. Ed. Fohernheim, P. Rosengreen, J. Courtemarsh and J. E. Hansen.

The exercises are using every effort to secure talent for a splendid entertainment. The funds raised will be used for the purchase of regalia for the camp.

WAGON ESCAPE.
A milk wagon driven by Percy Ward of Perilla avenue came very near being smashed to pieces early Saturday morning. The wagon was cut into and nearly overturned on St. Lawrence street, near Fifth avenue, before daylight Saturday morning. Luckily nothing but a few bottles were broken.

A FIRE.
Last Friday evening about 6 o'clock the lace curtains in the show window of the Arcade shoe store caught fire from a nearby gas jet and caused quite a blaze before they could be pulled down and the fire put out.

The damage was estimated at $75, which sum was paid by the insurance company.

HERRSCHER BUILDING.
The new Herrscher building is about complete. The concrete flooring has been laid in the basement, and the work of laying sidewalks around the building was begun today. The big plate glass windows are being put in by W. P. Fulton of Oakland.

NOTES.
The home of Mr. and Mrs. John Homer has been gladdened by the advent of a little daughter.

The funeral of Miss Domala, who died Saturday morning at the home of her sister, Mrs. A. Rogers, took place yesterday morning in St. Leonard's Church. The services were conducted by the pastor of the church. Interment took place at Holydays.

Mrs. Lena Borge has returned from a trip to San Luis Obispo.

CENTERVILLE.
CENTERVILLE, Nov. 14.—R. E. Braden was home over Sunday.

Charles Riser has sold his house adjoining the Neilhaus property to a Mrs. Wills of Northern California. She will probably take possession of the place about January 1st.

Mrs. Brischer, mother of Leo Brischer, died Saturday in San Francisco.

Rev. E. P. Sizer read his resignation from the pulpit Sunday. He leaves the first of the year to accept a call to Eureka.

PIEDMONT.
PIEDMONT, Nov. 15.—Superintendent Kelly of the Oakland Transit Company has arranged for the mountain view cars to run on to town, commencing at 7:30 in the morning and running up to that time in the evening. Residents will not have to transfer at Twenty-fourth street, as they will take the car at Fourteenth and Broadway they can ride through without change. This is a great convenience, especially during the winter months.

More greenhouses have been erected in the new San Joaquin nursery, which is migrating from Upper to Lower Piedmont.

The remarks about parks in general and Rockledge Park in particular, made last Thursday before the Telegraph Avenue Improvement Club by Mr. Lemmon and published in next day's TRIBUNE, are endorsed by everybody, who has studied this subject. But there is one point to which particular attention should have been drawn. Besides its own beauties and advantages Rockledge park has those of being flanked on either side by the greatest and most beautiful of the world, while on the southeast Upper Piedmont with its enchanting view of Oakland, Alameda, and Berkeley, the adjoining country, and ocean is all present already the sight of thousands of friends and lovers of nature.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1899.

The Boers' shells are reported to be of poor quality. That is a pity, for they will have to crawl into them pretty soon.

The irrigation convention across the bay is undertaking to reverse the old adage of saving for a rainy day. Its proposition is to do the saving so as to be prepared for a dry spell.

McKinley has appointed Governor Gage on the national celebration committee, which is another evidence of the President's good sense in selecting a Western man when there is any celebrating to be done.

A tragedy in Indiana develops the fact that a suicide club was in existence among the State troops that saw service in the Philippines. That may account for the long death list reported by General Otis from that regiment.

The dispatches yesterday announce that a man killed his mother-in-law by pouring acid down her back. He probably got tired of her doing all the back-biting and decided to try something in that line himself.

Hobson has another chance to distinguish himself and get an advancement of eight or ten numbers on the kissing list. The wreck of the Charleston is right in his line, and as he is on the spot, his good luck is evidently with him still.

The Democrats are doing their best to count out the successful Republican candidate in Kentucky, but developments indicate that they have too big a contract on their hands. The Republicans were "bred in old Kentucky" as well as their Democratic rivals, and can shoot just as straight.

The man who comes home late at night had better be careful for awhile or he may be caught out in one of those showers of meteors. Nothing short of a boiler plate umbrella could help him out in such an emergency, and even then he would be in luck to keep his feet after seeing so many stars.

A Stockton grocer has been caught in the act of setting fire to his store in order to obtain the insurance money. Now is the opportunity for some budding attorney to advance the theory that the insanity microbes are contagious and that the proximity of the asylum is responsible for his client's offense.

CALIFORNIA'S WATER STORAGE PROBLEM.

The presence in San Francisco of such a body of representative citizens and representative interests as opened its convention there yesterday constitutes a virtual guarantee of results. A convention of such a character and of such a spirit does not meet for nothing. The most auspicious feature of this gathering is the evidence that practically all of its members are permeated and actuated with the conviction that something must be done. This frame of mind is but the natural outcome of the lessons taught our whole people by the partial droughts of recent years. It is well interpreted and summarized by this resolution, presented to the convention in its earliest hours by Robert P. Troy:

"Resolved, That the interests of irrigation can best be subserved by the early extensive construction of water storage reservoirs, and any project looking to that end, whether promoted by national, State or individual aid or combination of these elements, should be encouraged and fostered by the people."

For the reason that this widely diverse, and therefore the more truly representative, body comes together committed to no one plan and to no bitterly contending number of plans or methods of operation, it is assured in advance of some definite progress toward the general and vitally important object at which it aims. When the people of Oakland, who are slowly arriving at it, come to a similar feeling with reference to the location of their new library, a gift of Mr. Carnegie will be realized without further loss of time.

Of the flood water storage convention now in session it may be safely said that no movement of so intimate and vast and universal relations to the prosperity of our State and coast has been undertaken by the present generation.

GET UP A 'LIBRARY NIGHT.'

The taking in hand by the members of the Ebell Society of the raising of $20,000 for the purchase of a site for the new library means that a final appeal is to be made to the enterprise and liberality of Oakland, for if they fail it does not seem probable that others can succeed. It is a remarkable thing that both here and at San Diego, where for years plans have been voted for a proper library building, when the generosity of an outsider places us in possession of ample funds with which to erect a substantial structure we are unable to find a place to put it. Andrew Carnegie has either had a similar experience in the past or else he was shrewd enough to forecast the possibilities of the present situation, for his provision that a suitable site be obtained and enough annual endowment secured, although regarded by us as unnecessary when his letter was first received, now proves to have been an absolute necessity.

As the generosity of a few individuals has already assured donations of $6,750 to the fund, the task of raising the balance of $13,250 is all that remains to the ladies of the Ebell Society, and in view of all the circumstances, it should not prove a very formidable undertaking. In the past we have given handsome bonuses for theaters and other such ventures, and now that we are confronted with the proposition of raising $13,250 for the purchase of something that will not only be an ornament to our city, but a valuable acquisition to our library, we should not hesitate.

The personal canvass that will be made should be met with generous responses, and as a suggestion to the Ebell Society, it might be well to let the masses who cannot be reached for individual subscription donate by means of a public entertainment. The Madisonian Theater could be secured for an evening, and a special program could be arranged by the Bellanca Club, or one of the other amateur organizations, that would be attractive enough from its own standpoint apart from the objects of the performance. The boxes and choice seats could be sold by auction in the customary way, and "Library Night" should mean an addition of many thousands of dollars to the fund. Appeals of this description are never in vain, and especially would not be so on an occasion of this kind, for it would give the people in general a chance to respond, and at the library alone several thousand dollars' worth of tickets should be disposed of, for those enjoying the privileges of the institution could not well turn a deaf ear to such an appeal.

Those who had aught to do with the Torrance law—the measure that passed our Legislature four years ago and has been a dead letter ever since—may be interested to hear that it has just been sustained again by the Supreme Court of Illinois, where it went up on an equity proceeding. The law has been in operation three or four years and appears to be giving the most thorough satisfaction—a condition that the committee that investigated it before it went to our Legislature declared would attend it here.

The skeleton in the closet of that St. Louis undertaker who has been caught trafficking in human bones is liable to come out, judging by the way the police are piling up evidence against him. These ghoul and grave robbers do the stiffest sentence courts can impose, for such offenses as desecration of the abiding place of the dead constitute an act that gives an ordinary man the shivers.

Judging by the way the Boers humiliated Kimberly, an artillery contest between them and the Spanish should be a well-matched event. They have about as much success in hitting what they aim at as a woman when throwing stones at a mauling hen.

The Anglomaniacs around the Palace Hotel have a good excuse nowadays for turning up the ends of their trousers. The flood-water convention is in session in the building.

Now that the mushroom season is in full swing, keep a weather eye open for leadfooted. Two cases of poisoning have already been reported.

DEWEY OFFERS A STRONG ATTRACTION.

"A Dark Continent" is one of the strongest and most cleverly constructed melodramas ever seen at the Dewey. The performance drew another large audience last night, and will doubtless do so again this week. The scene of the play being laid in mysterious Africa, gives opportunity for unusually effective and striking scenic effects, and the Dewey management has availed itself of these opportunities to the fullest extent. The dramatic strength of the play is admirably brought out by the Grand Stock Company, which is doing excellent work.

In Memory of E. J. Pringle.
At the opening of the United States Circuit Court yesterday, Edward R. Dwyer, on behalf of the San Francisco Bar Association, presented resolutions which were ordered spread upon the court record, and framed by a special committee composed of H. C. Campbell, E. D. Sawyer and Columbus Barrett, in memory of the late Edward J. Pringle, who was a patriotic citizen and a member of that tribunal and who died on April 2, 1899.

NOBLE WORK OF EBELL LADIES.

Realize That They Have a Hard Task But Will Try to Succeed.

The following correspondence explains itself:

Oakland, Cal., Nov. 14, 1899.
Mrs. F. B. Ginn, Chairman of Library Site Committee—Dear Madam:—THE TRIBUNE congratulates you and the ladies of the Ebell Club who have made towards the procuring of a Library site. We wish you every success, and will assist you in every way possible.

THE TRIBUNE offers its columns to the ladies, the space to be used by them in any manner they may deem best to assist in securing the desired subscription. The ladies, if they wish, can edit the column and supply the matter they desire printed. I leave the matter in the hands of the ladies. You have all the space you wish.
Yours truly,
JOHN F. CONNORS,
City Editor.

MRS. GINN'S REPLY.
Mr. John F. Connors, City Editor Oakland Tribune, Dear Sir:—Your letter offering congratulations and assistance to the ladies of the Ebell Club had just been received, and will be placed before them at tomorrow's meeting. In the meanwhile, permit me to thank you for the kind and generous offer, and to say that your generous offer is greatly appreciated. We need all the help the press can give us. THE TRIBUNE having favored this Library movement, it seems quite in order that it should continue its help and aid. We will most cordially support the party which will secure to the city of Oakland a site for the Carnegie Library.

The members of the Committee who have this matter in charge realize that they have put themselves into the breach and that criticisms and onslaughts no end may descend upon their devoted heads, but they are committed to the movement and propose to succeed.

They believe that they will have the support and assistance of all the public spirited and fair minded people of Oakland.

The Ebell Society would very much prefer to secure for an Oakland Library a block of land, other than the park sites, and to quadruple the amount of money which is to be expended upon a Library building, but in accordance with the possibilities and the time limit, it can attempt no more than the purchase of a quarter block of land centrally located.

The interests of the Committee and of the members of the Ebell Society are no more or no less than those of any and every other resident of this city, and we hope and trust that, appreciating the position of this Committee, the people will water subscriptions to the treasury, Miss Maria R. Robinson, and as promptly and generously as possible. As soon as the work is organized the Committee will report the results in THE TRIBUNE, and the treasurer will duly report the subscriptions received.

Yours for the Ebell Library Committee,
MRS. FREDERICK R. GINN,
Chairman.

FLAGMAN KILLED WHILE ON DUTY.

Tried to Save a Driver and Lost His Life.

Last evening about 6:45 o'clock Patrick Connor, flagman of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company at the intersection of San Pablo and Stanford avenues, Golden Gate, was killed, as the result of a collision between the Berkeley wagon driven by Ole Olsen, of the firm of Olsen & Son.

Connor's skull was crushed and death followed almost immediately.

Olsen and his team escaped without injury but the wagon which he was driving was broken into splinters.

The accident happened just as Connor was about to leave his work, after having done duty all day.

The Berkeley team had just pulled away from the crossing for the college town, and at the same time the train from Berkeley for San Francisco was approaching the crossing.

Connor stood at the intersection and displayed his white lamp to the engineer as a signal that the track was clear.

Connor, however, did not know why Connor should strive to stop him before he had reached the crossing.

Connor, the flagman, stood on the west side of the crossing, and the train was halted in that direction, striking him a severe blow and sweeping him against the engine, where he was crushed.

The impact of the train against the wagon shattered the king bolt, thus setting the horses free and doubtless saving their lives.

It also hurled Olsen a distance a number of feet, where he lay for a time unconscious. Connor, however, was found that he was unhurt save for several bruises of a minor character.

The remains of Connor were placed aboard the Berkeley train and taken to the sixteenth street depot, whence they were borne to the morgue.

The deceased was 35 years of age, and leaves a family at 223 Erie street. He had been in the employ of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company for twenty years.

FIGHTING GOSPEL IN ORIENT.

Missionaries Have a Hard Time in China.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The American Bible Society is in receipt of reports from its agents in China which state that as the result of the palace revolution last year, whereby the Empress Dowager assumed power, the Emperor was practically imprisoned, persecutions of missionaries and Bible collectors are occurring in various parts of China, especially in the far interior.

The Chinese agents, from Peking, North China, from Shanghai, in East Central China, from parts of the province of Shan Tung, but they relate persecutions remote from the chief cities. In one instance the viceroys were ordered to persecute the Christians.

The Chinese agents known as "The Boxers" are said to be provoking agitators and agitators. Two cohorts of the Bible Society visited Shantung, in the Province of Kansuh, and were invited to circulate Bibles from the city of Tientsin.

Two cohorts of the Bible Society visited Shantung, in the Province of Kansuh, and were invited to circulate Bibles from the city of Tientsin.

The men were tied hands and feet to the pillars of the temple and spat upon. They then began to strike them on the head with clubs and stones.

By this time two of the men were injured and a merchant who had been living in the same inn with them remonstrated with the leaders about the treatment they were giving to men who had in no way offended them. The crowd seized the merchant and beat him also.

It is understood that the agents of the Bible Society were endeavoring to obtain access from the Mandarins of Lo Yang Hsien, the city in the province of Yansu, which rules the town, where this disturbance took place.

TRANSPORTATION INQUIRY

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—The transportation sub-committee of the United States Industrial Commission will begin a tentative session at the Jackson Hotel. It will make inquiry into many questions affecting transportation, particularly of the lumber and grain trade.

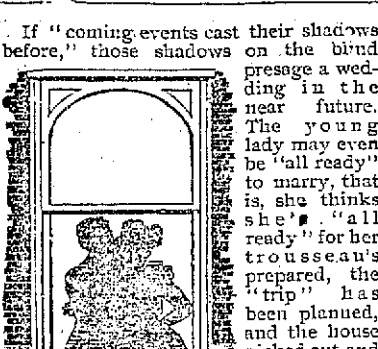

The first witness before the Commission will be former Senator James H. Beck of Texas, who has for the last eight years been chairman of the Texas Railway Commission.

The sub-committee is composed of T. W. Phillips, former Congressman from Pennsylvania; Senator Mahony of Florida; Congressman Bel of Colorado; Congressman Lott of Chicago; C. J. Harris of North Carolina and J. L. Kennedy of Washington City.

THE LATEST YARN.
A Hittsburg drummer tells this new yarn about a bottle of Kemp's Balm in my girth. I take cold easily and a few doses of Kemp's Balm always makes me a well man. Everywhere I go I speak a good word for Kemp. I take hold of my customers—I take old men and young men, and tell them candidly what would do when I take cold. At Gruggs, 25c and 50c.

If "coming events cast their shadows before," those shadows on the bird presage a wedding in the near future. The young lady may even be "all ready" to marry, that is, she thinks she's "all ready" for her husband's "trip" has been planned, and the house picked out and "everything."

When we see a young woman go out to meet fate that way it brings to mind the Frenchman's saying of the Charge of the Light Brigade. "It was magnificent but it was not war." It is magnificent to see the young girl face the future so fearlessly, but it is not life. No young woman is ready for married life unless her physical condition is up to the standard of marriage, in the health of all the delicate womanly organs, and rarely is that the case.

Young women entering upon the state of marriage will find no friend so helpful as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It gives vigor and elasticity to the organs peculiarly feminine, prevents the drains that ruin the health, and makes the ordeal of motherhood so easy that it is practically almost painless.

"At an early stage of married life," writes Mrs. Flora A. Dallas, Jackson Co., Mo., "I was greatly bothered with painful periods, and a troublesome drain which rendered me very weak and unfit for work of any kind. I became so thin there was nothing left of my body and a bottle of 'Favorite Prescription.' After he had used a bottle of this medicine I got me two more, and after I used those there was no more pain, and I began to gain in flesh very rapidly."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser answers every question. It is sent free on receipt of a one-cent stamp to pay the cost of mailing only. For the cloth-bound edition send 37 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

REPLY TO A CRITICISM MADE BY HENRY A. CHITTENDEN.

EDITOR TRIBUNE:—If I had said what Mr. A. Chittenden attributes to me, I should deserve his rather vituperative reproaches. But, as a fact, while some of my words appear to have reached him, the spirit and purpose of my remarks as a whole have not. For I protested against the very thing which he charges me with supporting. My point was that when the identical syndicate separated any loving husband and wife—as in the case I mentioned—a dreadful wrong was done in the probable circumstance of affection and destruction of home life. I deplored this as strongly as I could, and urged my belief that if those of whom I spoke had resisted separation, the public would have sustained them and their admirers would have rejoiced—none more than myself, who hold them both in high honor.

I did, indeed, express the fear, which I share with many of these best friends, that isolation and different business interests might be the result of the present permanent; but I did not say that this would be good or right, nor did I say that such a result would be a disgrace to the name of Chittenden's misanthropic and false allegations. I hold none such, and I deplore them utterly. My only allusion to the fact that the wife was a domesticated animal was to show that I was aware of its opportunity in domesticity it would naturally be concentrated upon, or lost in a lonely life. What is at stake in the world is not common humanity and decency, and I reiterate it as absolutely as I esteem the utility of character of the lady mentioned.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Nov. 15.—The explorations made by the botanists of the University of California in the Alaskan Islands, which were described by Professor W. A. Setchell Tuesday evening in a lecture before the University men were of great variety, said Professor Setchell. He himself accompanied the expedition to the College of Civil Engineering, A. Lawson and Professor W. L. Jepson, went to Alaska. Dr. B. Day of the department of botany, and Mr. Menzies, Humboldt, and Del Norte counties, accompanied by Dr. C. Blaisdell of the chemistry staff, during the last summer. Dr. Setchell, who spent most of the summer gathering plants on the salt marshes around San Francisco, the Channel Islands, the Alaskan Islands, the side and San Bernardino mountains, H. P. Chandler collected 200 specimens in the Channel Islands, Monterey, Santa Barbara, collected aquatic plants in Modoc and Shasta counties, L. N. Gardner collected seaweeds in Island county, and Dr. C. B. Day collected the Alaskan Islands. All these collections will go to enrich the herbarium of the University of California.

Professor Setchell was particularly interested in the plants of the Channel Islands, which is one of the largest of the Alaskan Islands, and midway between America and Asia. The summer products of the Channel Islands are treeless. The island is treeless. Even the shrubs do not grow more than three feet tall. The plants are peculiar, attaining a height of more than ten inches. The flowering plants are varied and beautiful. The plants are peculiar. The sea-weeds were rather scarce in variety. One interesting find was a species of seaweed growing in Iceland. Since Professor Setchell's journey another University botanist found the plant in Iceland.

Professor Setchell himself extended his journey to Cape Nome and to St. Michaels. Both going and coming he carried a number of specimens. The 10,000 or more specimens secured represent plant life in many parts of Alaska. The specimens are now being distributed to the various departments of the University for study.

SEED FOR DISTRIBUTION.
The students of the University of California have just received by the Agricultural Department of the University. The annual seed bulletin, containing a list of seeds for distribution, is now being issued. Every agricultural experiment station in the State is asked to furnish material for the University botanists for time to come.

RARE EUCALYPT AND ACACIA.
Seeds of forty rare species of eucalyptus and acacia have been planted during the past few weeks at the University of California at Berkeley and elsewhere throughout the State. Many are new to the State. The Agricultural Department of the University is interested in establishing a collection of eucalyptus, as the leading species are eucalyptus, and the seeds of the same are now in time almost disappear.

RESEARCH IN AGRICULTURE.
A step toward a national university has been taken by the University of California. The Agricultural Department of the University will have the libraries, laboratories and museums of the national government to the graduates of the University of California, and the Agricultural Department of the University will have the graduates of the University of California, and the Agricultural Department of the University will have the graduates of the University of California.

In. Metcalf made a short response, saying that he was glad to see the club taking such an active interest in the affairs of the city. By watching all legislation that would prove pernicious to the interests of the city, the club could put a check on such measures and do a great deal of good.

The meeting was then adjourned for two weeks. The club meets every other Tuesday in the month.

CONSUL PETTIT DEAD.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 16.—A special cable to the Chicago Tribune from Dusseldorf reported that the United States Consul George P. Pettit died today. His two nieces, the Misses Pettit, of California, arrived here on Sunday morning. Mr. Pettit died on Sunday at 11 o'clock, and was never in better health. He complained of feeling ill on Saturday and was operated upon Wednesday for an acute attack of appendicitis. His cause was, however, too far advanced when the physicians were called in, and they gave no hope after the operation. His body will be taken home after a short stay here.
